The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Win Some, Keep Some

When Del Mar Turf Club opened last week the opening day daily double paid $5,299, a record for the seaside race track.

Around local saloons where many horse bettors gather to pick and choose for the purpose of turning a quick and easy profit, there was speculation as to whether or not the tax man stands in line, as it is said he does in Baja California, to then-and-there assure himself that the taxing agency will be properly served.

It was the office of Eddie Reed—Reed being the redoubtable director of publicity for the Turf Club—that gave us information of the taxing procedure.

If the ticket you are fortunate enough to hold returns $500 or more for each $2 you invest, you are required to fill in a little who-and-where card before your winnings are handed over. The same procedure is required when the daily double or Exacta ticket returns $1,500 or more for your $2 investment.

It was not explained what use the State and Internal Revenue Services makes of these cards, but the fact that the cards exist with the winner's name and address thereon would suggest that the winner would think a little more kindly toward listing his winnings on his tax form.

'Trial By Declaration'

Traffic violators in east county areas are going to get a break starting September 1st.

Citations for minor infractions—excessive speed, failure to yield, failure to stop, etc.—will not be less frequent nor the charges less severe, but alleged violators will have an extra plea option. In addition to trial by judge, or trial by jury, the defendant may now elect to have a "trial by declaration." He does this when he arranges bail.

What it means is that practically all of the nerve-jangling court formality will be waived if the defendant chooses trial by declaration. Cases will be heard by one of the four judges of the El Cajon Judicial Court at 8:30 a.m. or 4:30 p.m. for a period of a half hour. There will be no prosecuting attorney, no lawyers and no arresting officers to testify against the defendant.

The defendant tells his story simply and may bring witnesses to buttress his story. The arresting officer will have filed a complete report, somewhat in the fashion of a deposition, but he will not be present.

The judge will have read the report and he will hear the defendant and immediately arrive at his decision. The case should be resolved in 10 minutes, perhaps less.

There are several reasons "trial by declaration" should be popular. First, it saves the motorist considerable time. In most cases he will take little or no time off from work. Many have not contested citations in the past because of the income loss factor.

Then there is considerable saving in time and money to the taxpayer if fewer officers need to appear in court. Contrary to belief, officers appearing in court are given 2 to 4 hours minimum compensation time. In addition, his post must be covered by a substitute officer.

Because there will be no need for a district attorney, the DA's workload will be reduced with a related saving in manpower and cost.

All elements of the court system feel that justice will be properly served by the new court procedure—which, it is emphasized, is "experimental and will be tried for a period of six months."

Here's how the "trial by declaration" works.

Upon such a declaration, the citing officer is notified and he must file in duplicate a written declaration with the Court as to what occurred. The defendant gets a copy of this report on the day of his trial. After reviewing his copy, the defendant tells his story. Any witnesses he brings may then be questioned. The judge, after studying all testimony renders his decision.

If the defendant is dissatisfied with the judge's verdict he has a right, within 10 days, to ask for a new trial. At trial the citing officer will be present and a formal trial will be conducted.

The procedure has been tried in San Francisco but the routine there was made too cumbersome.

In El Cajon, it is streamlined. California Highway Patrol Officer George W. Stanton is co-ordinator of the new procedure and has spent considerable time working out a uniform procedure in filing declarations. He had to get agreement between the S.D. Sheriff's Office, the El Cajon Police Department, the La Mesa Police Department, the District Attorney's Office and the California Highway Patrol for the six month's trial period.

Municipal Court Judge Donald Smith said he and the other three judges of the El Cajon Court believe the procedure will work and be popular. "It's more informal—sort of like a small claims court," he said. He said his viewpoint is shared by Judges Tom Duffy, Alfred Lord and Richard Bein.

Officer Stanton, who is enthusiastic about "trial by declaration" said the additional benefit is that it brings the courts closer to the people.

It is believed that the new procedure will become standard throughout the county after the six month's trial is completed locally.

Let's you forget the options are now three:

- Trial by Judge.
- Trial by Jury.
- Trial by Declaration.

Fire Protection Board Elections Due Nov. 2

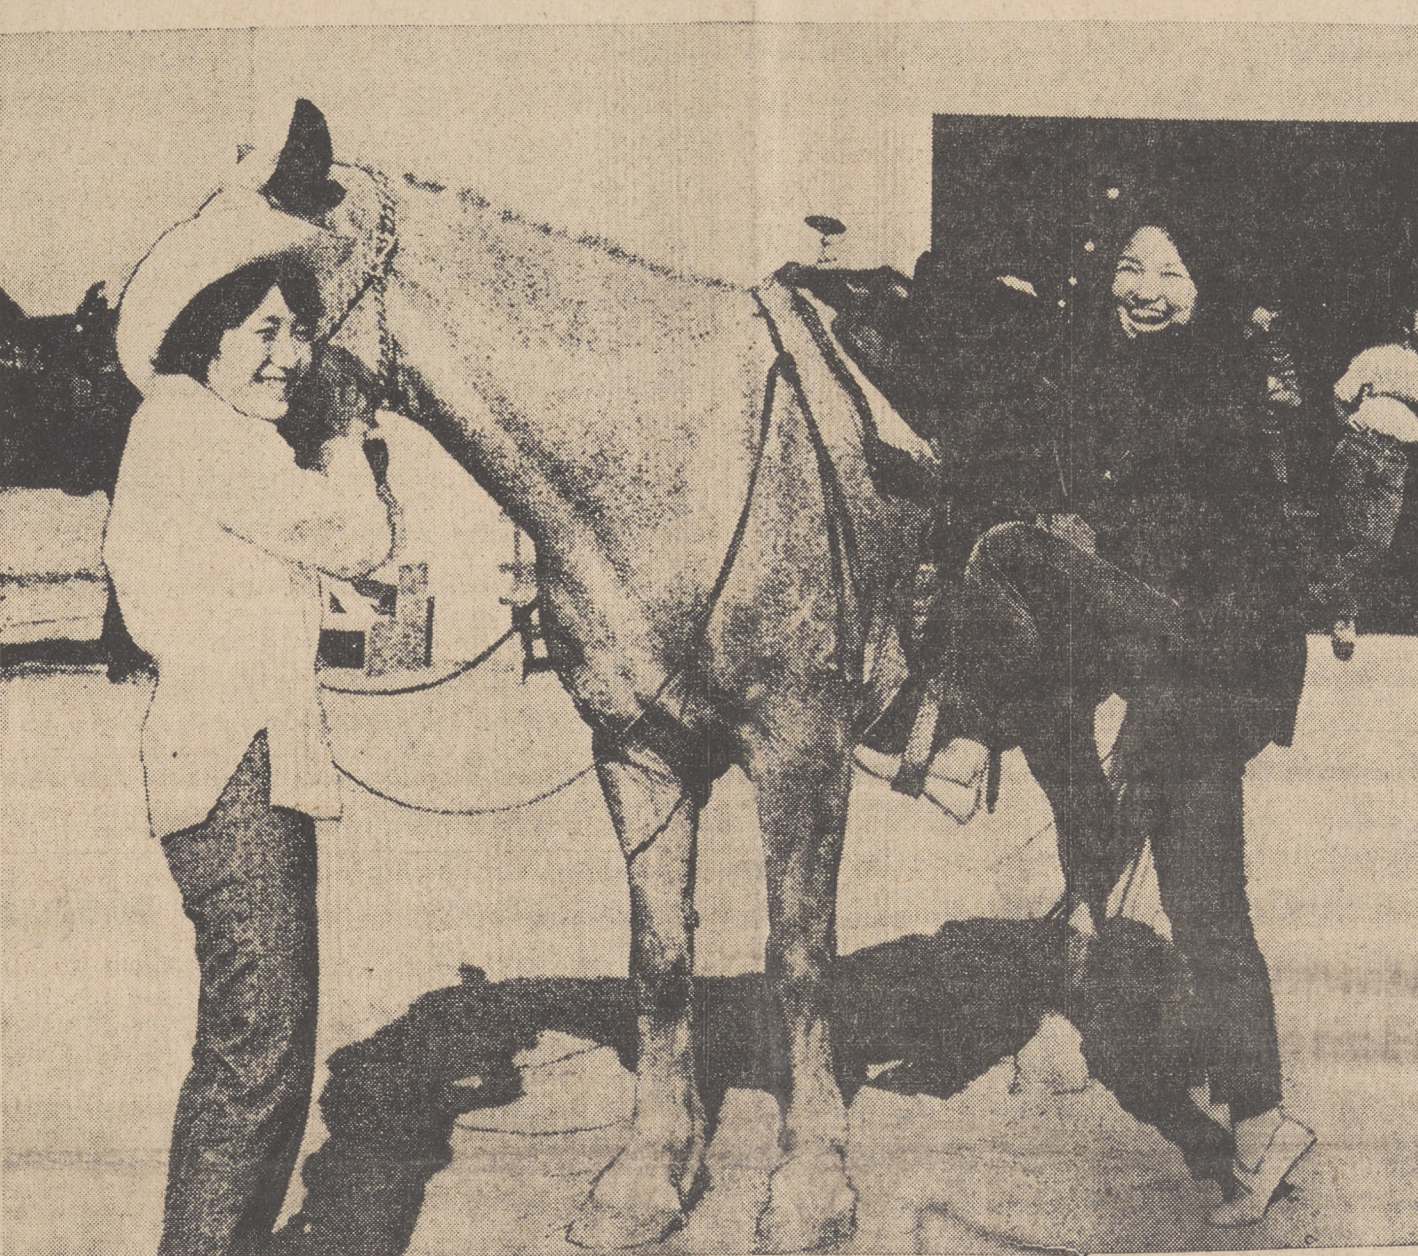

Five seats on the two local fire protection district boards will be up for election November 2, it was announced last week by County Registrar of Voters Charles J. Sexton.

The terms of three members of the Spring Valley Fire Protection District Board of Directors will expire this year, and two members of the Lemon Grove District Board will also face election.

The three Spring Valley directors have indicated that they will probably seek re-election. They are Virgil Steffen, president of the board, Stan-

Drug Policy Change Proposed To Grossmont District Trustees

TALL IN THE SADDLE — Mariko Wantanabe, from Japan, is all smiles as she mounts a horse at Jerry's Hayride hosted by the Jamul. Steadying the steed is Sakura Niwa, also from Japan. The girls, along with 17 others from Japan, have been visiting San Diego County for the past couple of months under an exchange program of the Lions Club International. The Japanese youngsters were the guests last week at a farewell party at Jerry's Hayride hosted by the Spring Valley Lions Club. Also at the affair were Lions Club District Governor Emil Schmidt and officers from several other clubs in the county.

Board Delays Action Until Sept. Meeting

The Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and discussed a proposal to drop a portion of the current drug policy.

The policy, which calls for the expulsion of students involved with drugs on and off campus, has been the subject of controversy since its inception four years ago.

The proposal, the work of the superintendent's drug policy Review Committee, calls for dropping the automatic expulsion of students involved with drugs off campus, except in severe violations.

Change in the policy was recommended because of recent changes in laws on reporting drug violations. The law now permits arresting officers to report violations to

New Director Named For L.G. Youth Center

Dale Wood, a 26-year old special education major at State, has been named director of the Lemon Grove Youth Center, replacing Grant Underwood.

Underwood had been director for about two months — two weeks of which time the Center was closed. He returned to Ohio where he will go back to college.

The Center, on School lane, was opened for youngsters between sixth grade and 16 years of age and it had the backing of a local service club. The manpower and financial requirements exceeded the anticipated level and the operation was turned over to a local board of directors. This board is in the process of reorganization said Len Farness, local businessman this week. The board officers are Farness, Frank Shugrue, a banker and Mrs. Verna Quinn, secretary.

Wood, once associated with the youth program at the Lemon Grove Methodist church, lives at 7426 Central ave. He will operate the Center on Tuesdays, 3-10; Fridays, 3-10, and Saturdays 12-10. As it was in the past. Presently he is seeking athletic equipment, as did his predecessor. Needed are footballs, basketballs, kickballs, pingpong and badminton sets. A loose association with similar operations, such as Bridge, It and DEFY, will be maintained.

Wood said competitive programs would be formulated with YMCA and at Colina del Sol. Youngsters will be encouraged to participate in "hot line" work to aid those who have drug problems in self or in family. No "hot line" is planned for the Center.

Farness said that the greatest need at present is for volunteers to take short shifts at the Center — about two hours every few days. It takes about $450 a month to keep the place going, he said. There are several local "subscribers" who cover about a fourth of the expenses. "We have to scrounge for the rest," he said.

Wood said the 50 or so youngsters who use the Center for "their place" would be the nucleus of a task force to help other youngsters put down drugs.

Youngsters use the Center as a place where they can be away from "the establishment" and have "rap sessions" without outside interference. They play games in between — when equipment is available.

District Approves Budget; PRD Agreement OK'd

The Board of Trustees of the Lemon Grove School District met Monday night and approved two important items and considered and approved several routine items.

At the head of the agenda was the approval of the 1971-72 school budget. Paul Reynolds reported to the board that only a slight increase in this year's tax rate would be necessary.

Earlier estimates showed that a 17 cents per $100 valuation increase would be needed to finance the budget, but trustees cut $45,000 from the document to lower the increase to about 7 cents. Increased financing from other areas could cut the increase even farther, Reynolds said.

The next item handled by Trustees was the approval of an agreement between the district and the Pacific Bay Development Corporation.

The corporation is seeking rezoning for the proposed Imperial-80 planned residential development, which is to lie within the San Diego City Limits, but will spill over into the Lemon Grove School District.

The agreement calls for the district to notify planning commissions and authorities that the corporation has agreed to provide temporary school facilities for any students from the development who will attend in the Lemon Grove District.

The agreement called for the corporation to give the district $150 upon the sale or occupancy of each unit which falls within the district.

Newly seated trustee Jim Dorman disagreed with the agreement as presented, as it contained no option to purchase a site for a new school in the development.

A three-year option to purchase clause was added to the agreement and it was approved.

Another item considered by the board was that of a vision testing program sponsored by the Lemon Grove Lions Club.

Under the program, students in the district would receive a four-phase testing program paid for by the Lions Club. Trustees greeted Dr. Jerome Legerton, who described the program, enthusiastically, although approval of the matter will have to wait until the September 13 meeting.

Before approval will be given, the district administration said it wished to discuss the matter with school principals and nurses.

Routine matters discussed at the meeting included the annual financial reports of the district's special programs, an agreement for psychological services, and an inservice workshop attended by Dr. Robert Sutton.

It Was Warm --95 Degrees

Monday's high temperature of 95 degrees was not a recordbreaker although it felt like it.

On July 10 the thermometer also registered 95.

On Monday there was a trace of rain in the Lemon Grove - Spring Valley area — just enough to splatter windshields.

Rain years are measured from July 1 and there has not been much activity in that field according to Jerry McReynolds, meteorologist with the local Fire Department.

Dorman added that if the district signed the agreement without the clause, it would weaken the district's bargaining power to set a price on the land.

A three-year option to purchase clause was added to the agreement and it was approved.

The Aug. 12 meeting will be held in the evening. This meeting will be held 7:30-9:30 in the Golden Avenue school auditorium. Executive committee meetings have been held in the afternoons previously, according to Jim Dorman, Planning Association president.

Ben Ella, chairman of the Residential Zoning Sub-Committee said the group could not agree on zoning after the County Board of Supervisors proposed interim zoning for county areas. County Planning would set for a year all R-2 and R-2A classifications as 1-A on 6,000 foot lots. The public hearing will be at the Supervisor's chambers on September 15.

Ella's group meets on first and third Mondays at Mayflower Hall, 3770 Glebe rd., Lemon Grove, 7:30-9:30 p.m. Meetings are usually attended by more than 25 persons.

His group is charged with establishing a work program and making recommendations for a land-use program. "We could not presume to offer such programs until a larger proportion of our membership indicates the way it would want to go."

Sub-Committee Reports To Be Heard At August 12 Meeting Of L.G. Planning Association

The Residential Zoning Sub-Committee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association decided Monday night that it couldn't come up with any definitive recommendation at this point in time and will report it as such Thursday, Aug. 12 when the Association's Executive Committee meets.

The Aug. 12 meeting will be held in the evening. This meeting will be held 7:30-9:30 in the Golden Avenue school auditorium. Executive committee meetings have been held in the afternoons previously, according to Jim Dorman, Planning Association president.

Walter Keville, assistant planner with the Community Planning Department of the County said the executive committee meeting Aug. 12 would be used to hash out membership requirements to ascertain who could vote; a routine for record keeping, and to hear sub-committee reports — one of which will be Ella's.

Dorman said a general membership meeting has been scheduled for Sept. 14 at which time Supervisor Harry Scheidle will be speaker. This meeting will be moved to the L.G. Junior high school.

Scheidle will discuss the Planning Association and the Broadway Improvement Program.

Any interested person may attend any of the meetings.

CONCERT SET — The San Diego Youth Chorale, under the direction of Robert Boucher, of Spring Valley, will present a "Pops" Concert in the Recital Hall at San Diego State College, Sunday, at 8:15 p.m. Selections from "Finian's Rainbow" will open the program, followed by three Negro Spirituals. Pat Beckman will be the soloist in "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair", with Celeste Mendoza singing the solo in "A Jubilant Song," by Dello Joio. The accompanist for the San Diego Youth Chorale is Valerie Maschner. The summer concert will be given admission free. Boucher, in photo above, was formerly director of vocal music at Mt. Miguel High School.

Spring Valley Church Sets Vacation Church School

Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, at Madrid way and Agua Dulce blvd., Spring Valley, will hold its annual vacation church school next week from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Classes will be held at the church for youngsters three years old through the sixth grade. Theme of the classes will be "At Home in God's World."

Activities will include Bible stories, filmstrips, art projects, nature studies, recreation, singing, and refreshments. On Thursday evening, a potluck dinner will be held at the church for parents and friends of those in the classes. At the dinner, youngsters will display their art projects and a film on ecology will be shown.

Shepherd of the Valley Pastor Daniel Erlander said last week that all children in the community are invited to attend the classes. Registration fees are $1.50 for each youngster and $1 for each additional youngster in the family.

The registration fees will be used to help defray the costs of materials for the classes, Mrs. Alton Johnson, who will serve as superintendent of the school, said.

Art is apparently increasing in popularity. The Art Institute reported 292,850 more people visited the institution last year than the year before.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Meanings of words are influenced or even changed completely by varying the verbs that appear with them. Consider the expression "esta listo" which can mean "it is ready." When the verb is changed from "esta" to "es," as seen in "es listo," the meaning is changed to "it is clever" or "(he) is clever." Thus "esta listo" can mean "ready" or "clever."

"El es loco" is another example which means "He is silly." When we change the verb within the phrase and say "El esta loco," the meaning is changed to "He is crazy." Thus "es loco" means "is silly" and "esta loco" is "crazy."

"Ella es mala" can mean "she is bad." When we change the verb and say "Ella esta mala," the meaning is changed to "she is ill." Thus "es mala" means "is bad." "Esta mala" means "is sick."

"Es triste" suggests that a person or thing "is dull." Changing the verb form and saying "esta triste" suggests that one "is sad" or "is gloomy." Thus "El es triste" means "He is dull." "El esta triste" means "He is sad."

"El esta vivo" is translated "he is alive." If we change the verb and say "el es vivo," the meaning is changed to "he is keen" or "he is lively." From this we conclude that "vivo" means "alive" when used with "esta" (is). Also "vivo" means "lively" or "lively" when used with "es."

"Esta nuevo" and "es nuevo" offer interesting concepts. "Esta nuevo" means "it is unused" or "it is good as new."

By contrast "Es nuevo" suggests "it is new" in the sense that "it is newly made."

Practice phrases listed below contain some of the variations in meaning of words that result when the verb is changed from "es" to "esta." A recorded voice will lead you in saying them when you dial 276-2762.

Important Phrases: Say "Esta usted listo?" (eh-STAH oo-STEHD LEES-toh) for "Are you ready?"

Say "El es muy listo." (ehl ehs MOO-ee LEES-toh) for "He is very clever."

Useful Phrases: Say "El es muy malo." (EHL ehs MOO-ee MAH-loh) for "He is very bad."

Say "El esta muy malo." (ehl eh-STAH MOO-ee MAH-loh) for "He is very ill."

Other Phrases: Say "El esta vivo." (ehl eh-STAH VEE-voh) for "He is alive."

Say "El es muy vivo." (ehl ehs MOO-ee VEE-voh) for "He is very lively," or "He is very keen."

Lutheran Hour To Be Honored At Balboa Park

The Lutheran Hour, a radio broadcast which has been aired for more than forty years, will be honored in Balboa Park Sunday at 4 p.m. by a rally sponsored by the Lutheran Layman's League, Sunshine Zone.

Dr. Oswald Hoffman, who for many years has delivered sermons over the program, will be the speaker. Adding to the occasion will be Douglas I. Duncan, San Diego's Civic Organizer, who will accompany a choir on the Spreckles Organ.

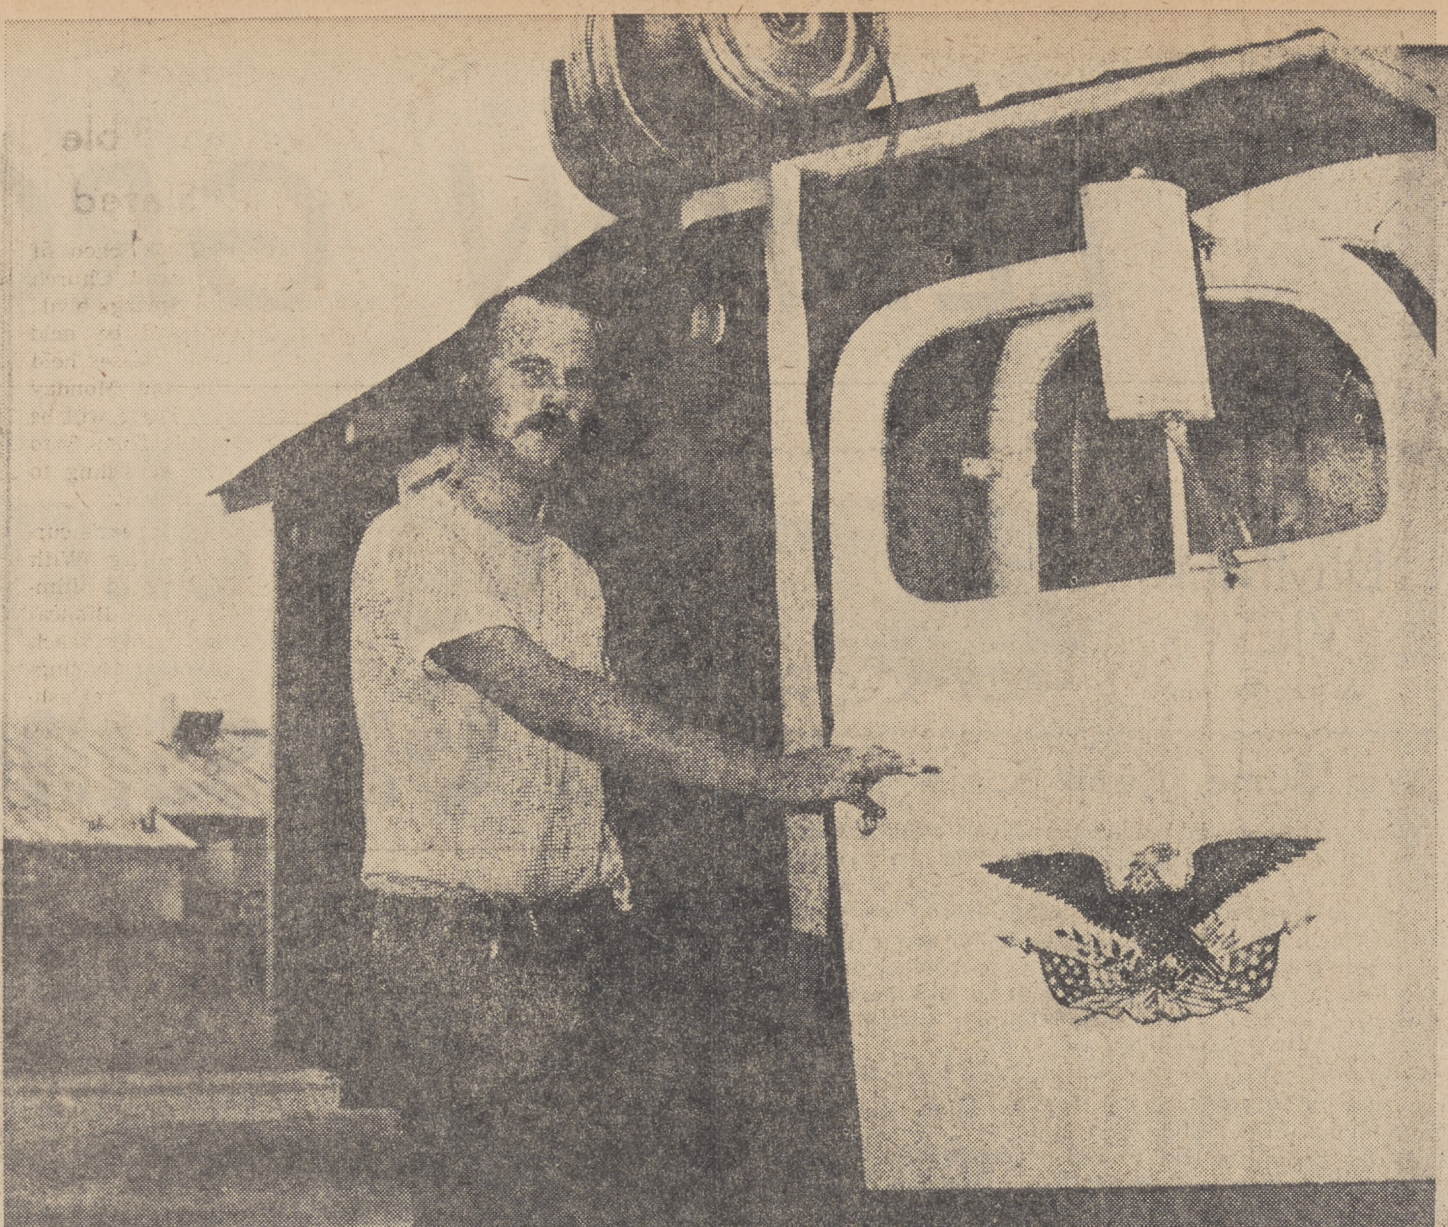

The choir, under the direction of Raymond Knauft, of St. Paul's Church in Pacific Beach, will consist of members from choirs throughout the district.

A colorful pageantry with participants wearing native costumes and leading animals indigenous to the lands they represent will also take place at the affair.

Two thousand persons are expected for the rally, which will take place at the Organ Pavilion in the park.

PRIDE DOES IT — The camper resembles an outhouse with a beer barrel on top. It is the vehicle in which youthful members of PRIDE go on outings. The barrel carries drinking water. Posing with the vehicle is PRIDE executive, Dennis Evers, of La Mesa, whose sister, Denise Evers is chairman of Heartland Youth for Decency. The camper was built like that to attract attention, said Evers who was in Lemon Grove last week.

PRIDE members are minority youngsters, 9-17 years of age. They sell candy for income. The income operates their house at 4084 Franklin ave. in San Diego, which is their meeting place. Selling candy from their headquarters they are shown the values that make the free enterprise system work, according to Evers. Emphasis is placed on academic achievement, too. PRIDE made about $30,000 last year and expects to reach $75,000 this year. A five man board manages the non-profit operation. The project has the sanction of the S.D. Police Department. Income has bought two buses and provides a scholarship for a youth who came through PRIDE, Evers said. A new, and larger home is to be bought and most important, funds are being banked to buy a candy manufacturing plant which will be built in Southeast San Diego.

Some of the income, Evers said, takes the youngsters on outings, such as to Disneyland, fishing trips, and an occasional visit to a "good" steak house. They are given $5 spending money for the outings. "They get to understand the end product of the free enterprise system," Evers added. About 50 youngsters are associated with PRIDE, he said. Those who stay do so because they have learned the advantages of our system, he said.

This Sunday

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is for more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Requirements For Boy Scouts Are Relaxed

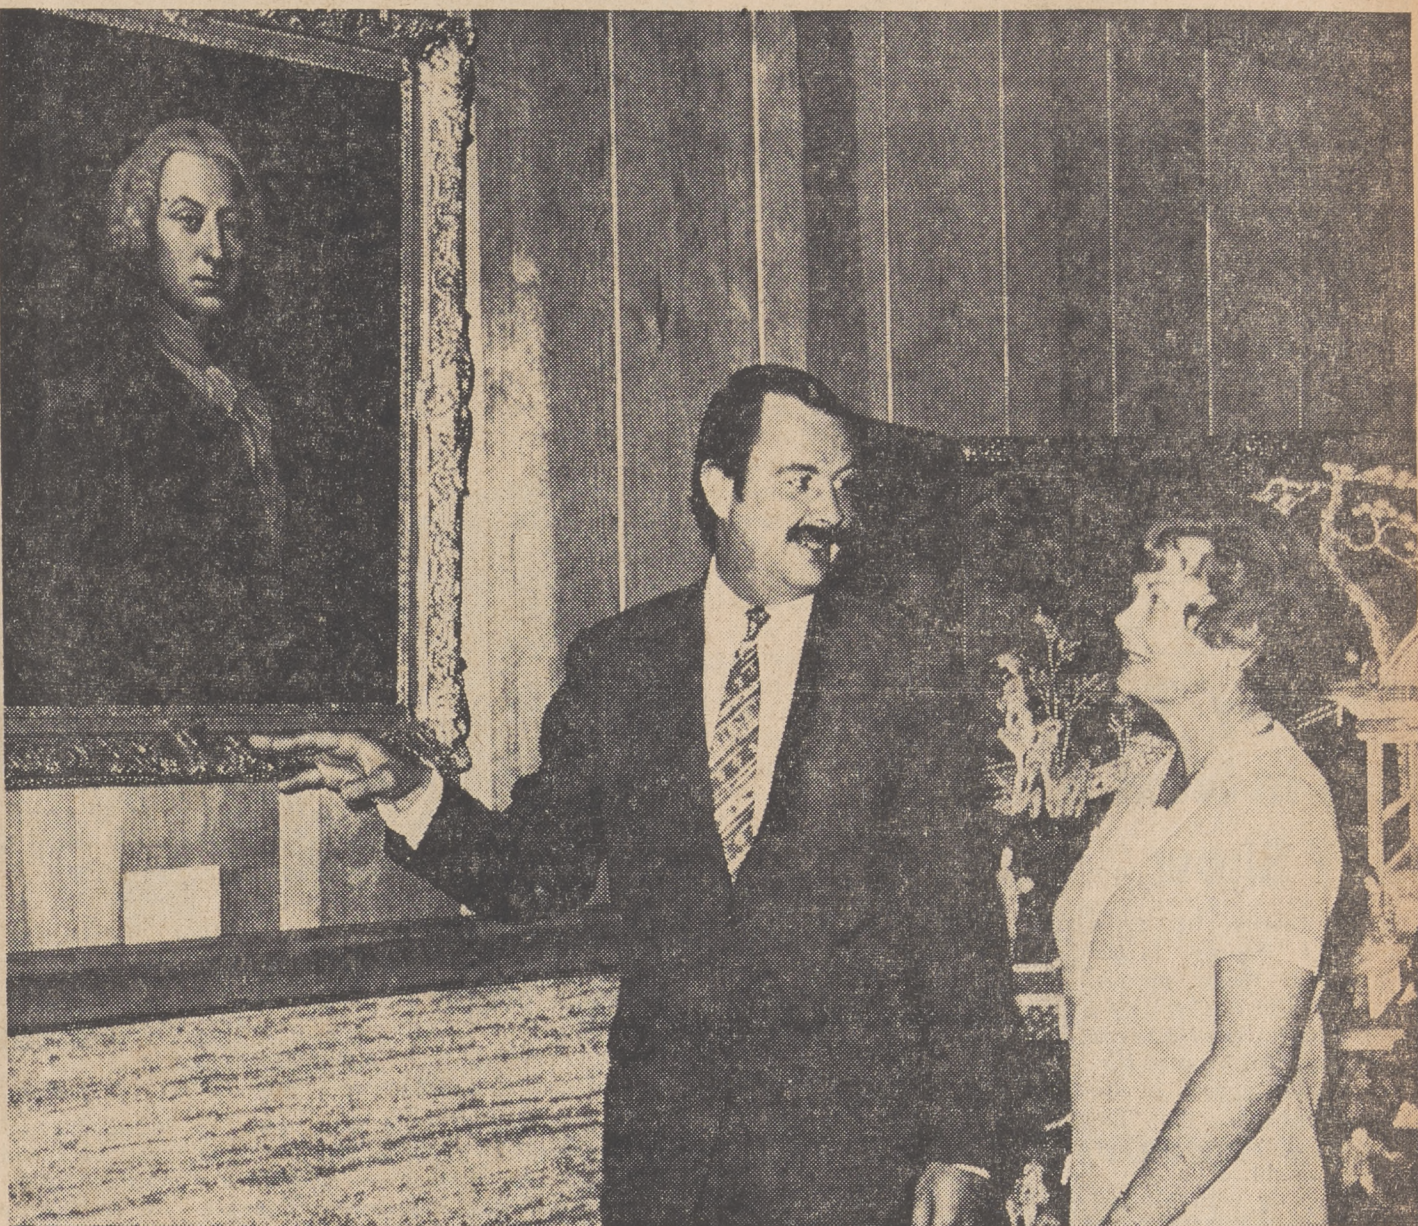

A boy who has completed the fifth grade or is eleven and with the approval of his parents or guardian is eligible now to become a Boy Scout, according to Fred Hage, Jr., Chairman of the Membership Committee of the San Diego Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Formerly, boys had to be at least 11 years of age to join a Boy Scout troop, but the Executive Board of the national organization has changed the membership requirement so that a boy is eligible when he has "completed the fifth grade or is eleven," Hage said.

The San Diego Council which serves San Diego County has 400 Scout troops. Hage reported that the council also expects to organize about 20 new troops in the next 3 months during the annual fall roundup, a 3-month membership campaign.

The Boy Scouts of America is in partnership with over 800 local schools, religious institutions, service clubs, PTA's civic organizations, labor unions, and other community groups that are chartered to use the Scout program, Hage said.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor, I am writing to ask your readers to support the Conquest of Cancer Bill. As Director of a hospital for cancer patients, I know of the great need for this bill. As a member of the National Panel of Consultants for the Conquest of Cancer, I am confident that the passage of this bill will speed the day when cancer is conquered, although no one can predict when that will be.

After extensive hearings, an excellent bill, S 1828, was passed by the Senate by a 79-1 vote. This bill, based on the recommendations of the National Panel of Consultants, is supported by the American Cancer Society, most cancer scientists, the Secretary of H.E.W. and the President of the United States. The bill provides for the acceleration of cancer research, and includes all reasonable compromises that were suggested during extensive hearings and debates. It combines the best features of two earlier versions.

Your Congressman, Lionel Van Deerlin, is a member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce which will consider the bill. Please write to: Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Ask him to vote for the Conquest of Cancer Bill without any amendments, and without delay. Remember that each day's delay could cost us 900 American lives — the daily toll of cancer. Sincerely yours, Solomon Garb, M.D.

'Pajama Game' Opens At Grossmont College

The Communications Arts, Drama Department of Grossmont College and the school's Music Department are involved in the presentation of the musical comedy "The Pajama Game," which opened last night for an eight-night run in the College's Stagehouse Theater.

The production will play tonight, tomorrow night, and Saturday night at 8:30 p.m.; then the cast will take a break before resuming their roles next Wednesday through Saturday.

"The Pajama Game" opens with the arrival of the handsome Sid Sorokin as the new superintendent of the Sleep-Tite Pajama Factory in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The pajama factory is negotiating with workers who are bargaining for a 7½ cent per hour pay raise. The zealous Sid, over anxious to make good at his new job, gets upset and shoves one of his assistants. The helper complains to the grievance committee whose chairman is none other than the lovely Babe Williams. Well there it is! Confrontation. Complications and fun follow in the popular Adler-Ross production.

Assisting in the "titanic struggle for pajama survival" is the irrepressible Time Study Man, Vernon Hines, and his long suffering girl friend, Gladys, as well as the company secretary, Mabel Hasler, the president of Sleep-Tite P.J. turns out to be the main stumbling block to his own philosophy of "Sleep-Tite solidarity."

Playing lead roles in the production will be Kirk McKeever, as Hines; Weldon Garrett, as Hasler; Wendy Holzman as Gladys; Virginia Palmer as Mabel; Jan Hagan as Sid; and Dagmar Box as Babe Williams.

Local actors include Carol Bishop of Spring Valley, as Carmen; and Vicki Nelson, also of Spring Valley, as "Poop-sie." Other local performers will be dancers Harriet Impink, of Jamul; Carol Sanner, of Spring Valley; and David Wollos, also of Spring Valley.

The popular musical comedy will be designed and directed by James W. Baker with costumes by Clark G. Mires. Both are members of the Grossmont College Communication Arts/Drama Department. Chorus and orchestral direction will be under David Glismann and Charles MacLeod of the college's Music Department faculty, while Trina Greig will serve as choreographer.

The public is invited to see one of Broadway's most popular musicals. The price of admission is $1.50 by reservation. Reservations may be made by calling the Communication Arts/Drama Department, 465-1700, ext. 327.

WEAVERS — Busy fingers were weaving strands of sisal into macramé this past week at Spring Valley Elementary School in a summer class titled "Operation Cooperation-Operation Production." Grades three through six students were taught the economics of production by Mrs. Georgia Killian and Mrs. Harriet Campbell, teachers.

The students purchased materials and manufactured them into various art media. A flea market was set up during the last week of summer school at which time every item was sold and the profits totaled approximately $100. Twenty of those dollars will be spent on a fun day with ice cream and cookies for the students. The remaining $80 was donated to the Grossmont Hospital pediatric ward for the purchase of toys for the sick. The gift was accepted by hospital personnel this past Friday.

Vaccine For Horses Due In County

Dr. H. C. Johnstone, San Diego County veterinarian, said last week that California has now been added to the list of states authorized to use the Venezuelan strain of equine encephalomyelitis vaccine. Local supplies are expected to be available in two to five weeks.

Because of our proximity to Mexico, San Diego County and Imperial County will be the first areas of the State to receive the vaccine. The vaccine will be administered in a cooperative effort involving Federal, State and County officials, and local equine practitioners; and no fee is anticipated for the service.

"There have been no confirmed cases of the Venezuelan strain outside of Texas," said Dr. Johnstone, "and all the Texas cases have been confined to the area south of San Antonio."

Dr. Johnstone advised that the eastern and western strain of encephalomyelitis vaccine used locally will not protect against the Venezuelan strain now affecting horses in Texas.

APPRECIATION — Students in Mrs. Rosemary Morgan's summer school class at Lemon Avenue Elementary School were able to learn how people in Early American times made ice cream by cranking it out themselves. The studies also involved washing clothes with an antique wash board and ironing with a charcoal iron, to help them appreciate the early "not-so-finer" things in life. Said Jerry Schniepp, who is pictured above, "We really learned to appreciate it after all the cranking." And, the entire class appreciated his efforts when the vanilla ice cream was served.

Stadium Press Box is Fun-- If You Want 5 Voices at Once

By MAX GOODWIN

There is hardly a sports fan who wouldn't give his season ticket in exchange for a day in the press box at an important sports event.

But having attained that desire, it is my guess that he would be forever after happier in the comparative quiet of a general admission seat.

The San Diego Stadium press box has a touch of elegance by most press box standards. The press section is wide and rangy, extending almost three-fourths of the entire length of the field on the south side.

The section boasts a glass-enclosed, air-conditioned dining room and bar section. The fare is excellent and served without charge to members of the working press.

Entrance to the press section is not easy to gain, however. Even the press elevator operator wants to see credentials. A guard just inside the press section door requires identification. The identification number must also be listed on a chart at the dining room bar-room entrance.

Between the press section and the press dining room is a bulletin board on which the game lineups are listed. On a table nearby are official scorecards and statistic sheets. These give the reporter a chance to do some additional homework while he's eating.

Glass Walls

There are 20 or more tables in the dining room. The room is comparatively quiet. The glass enclosure cuts out the noise from the stands but there is a constant buzz as sports conversation is exchanged between newsmen. There is also an occasional shout of derision as some reporter makes an outrageous allegation. From time-to-time a front-office official walks in to pass along some intelligence that will make the day's news more meaningful. Usually there is quiet when such announcements are made.

But quiet isn't the name of the press box game. Take Friday at the Padres game for example.

A paper napkin caught fire in a trash container near the dining room. Several helpful reporters doused the smouldering paper with glasses of beer. A waiter poured water on the mass. The place smelled to high heaven of beery smoke but danger was dampened.

Then Padre President Buzzie Bavasi came in with the announcement that the game would be delayed 30 minutes because Brass in the Grass musicians were slow in getting their equipment set up for program post-game concerts.

Al Harutunian introduced his son Al II to press members. Al II, 16, is center on the Mission Bay high school basketball team and was recently elected "the most improved player."

Harutunian senior is a selfless sports nut. He is as responsible as anyone for bringing big-time sports to San Diego.

Trades Discussed

Within minutes Bob Redding, a Union-Tribune photographer sat at our table for a few minutes to discuss trade rumors concerning the Padre's outfield. No one else had heard about it. Lyle Bond of teevee channel 8 joined the discussion. He is one of the most informed sports reporters anywhere and president of the Sportscaster/Sportswriter Association of San Diego and Baja California. In came Al Hogan, the North County fellow who works out group and party arrangements at the stadium. Veteran sportswriter Harold Parrott joined the table. Parrott puts on special promotions at the stadium such as the record-setting July 3 fireworks display — and the Brass in the Grass concert which was that night holding up the game. Parrott also writes those interesting stories in the Padres scorebooks.

Bob Sterling, a newsmen who is head of the Chargers Backers club, stopped by to announce that the average football official runs 8 miles each game he officiates.

Doctor Who?

Team physician Dr. H. Paul Bauer, who looks more like a television doctor, was complaining that a security guard had told his answering service that there was no Dr. Bauer connected with the team — and after three years of service, yet.

Jerry Gross and his sirekick, Duke Snider, came in for a bite. So did John DeMott, the voice of the scoreboard. Eddie Leishman, the friendly but quiet general manager of the Padres listened as newsmen "rapped."

Three Tiers

The pre-game concert ended. Baseball players took to the field. Newsmen ambled down to their desks between the dining room and the field. The section is three tiers deep. The National Anthem was observed. Most newsmen are lousy singers.

While speakers on the scoreboard were giving the lineup by name, position and suit number, Padres publicity director Irv Grossman was making an announcement in the idiom of the newsmen by using numbers. For example: 1 is the pitcher; 2 is catcher; 3 is first baseman and on up to 9 for right fielder. His voice is amplified through wall speakers directly behind the desk of each newsmen. The scoreboard announcements in no way coincide with the wall speaker announcements. John Wirges, sports editor for the North Shores Sentinel, had a loud, miniature radio tuned to Jerry Gross who was broadcasting the game over KOGO radio. His voice was added to those of Grossman's and DeMott's.

The game started!

A few yards away from our seat was a girl who operates a Western Union TWX machine. It sends baseball information to wire service subscribers. As she operates, a bell rings frequently. The clacking and the ringing sounds are added to those already mentioned.

In the other direction is a Mexican radio broadcast unit. Tijuana radio, station XEXX broadcasts the game in Spanish. The voices are not loud, but they are there. Three fine Mexican newsmen man the broadcast. One, Mario, also calls Caliente races and is frequently the announcer at the Bullring by the sea in Tijuana.

Friday was also the night of the Colts All Star football game in Chicago. A thoughtful newsmen in the next tier brought a small, high-powered teevee set to the press area and it was tuned to the Chicago game, which ran concurrently with the Padres. In the tier below, members of the Cincinnati press had a radio tuned to Pittsburgh game in Los Angeles. The Reds would meet the L. A. team the next night and Cincinnati writers were doing some advance homework.

As the Padres game progressed, Grossman's voice provided more and more information over the press intercom. Such activities as double plays; called by Grossman as "score it 6 to 5 to 3;" the report that the official scorer had ruled a play a fielder's choice; that the pitcher now has racked up 30 scoreless innings, and that it was 17 doubles so far this year for the batter. His announcements were in competition with the voice of DeMott over the scoreboard sound system announcing that the Toyota was the official auto of the Padres. The sound of the two radios nearby tuned to different stations and the teevee broadcast of the football game overrode the clanging of the TWX and the Spanish-speaking radio nearby — as well as the voice of Grossman.

Except for the home town team's loss, it was a pleasant evening in the ordinary life of a sports newsmen.

The game didn't go well. The Padres lost 3-1 in 10 innings. Before the game went into extra innings, Tony Gearhart, a former professional golfer who manages the press bar-grill, distributed bags of hot roasted peanuts to those who still had stomach capacity.

As a Padre batter popped up for the final out of the game, some of the newsmen gathered their stat sheets and headed home. Others went back to Tony's bar-grill for a quickie or two while waiting for the crowd to thin out in the parking area. Some went elsewhere to talk about baseball, football, basketball, hockey, women and whatever other sports that make up the lifeblood of a sports newsmen.

As a wise newsmen once said: "No sportswriter is happily married for no wife can condone the love he has for the 'other woman'... sports."

L.G. Stars In Vista Tourney

The major league all star team from the Lemon Grove Bobby Sox League travelled to Vista over the weekend to take part in the area double elimination tournament there.

The LG Stars, behind the pitching of Debbie Sullivan, couldn't muster enough runs to overcome host team Vista. Vista claimed the win, 4-2, despite six strikeouts for Sullivan.

The local team came back to claim victory in its second contest, as Gina Giacinto tossed her way to the 7-1 victory over Mesa Del Sol. The losers pulled off a pair of snappy double plays, but couldn't come up with the necessary runs to win.

The local ladies played again Tuesday evening.

Chargers to Greet 'Ram-Skin' Saturday

Sid Gillman returns to the sidelines, George Allen returns to Southern California and pro football returns to San Diego Stadium Saturday night.

The occasion is the 1971 pre-season opener between the San Diego Chargers and Washington Redskins. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Better buy a program for this game. Not only is it the first meeting between the Chargers and Redskins, the teams made off-season personnel changes quicker than you can say the name of the Washington quarterback, Christian Adolph (Sonny) Jurgensen.

Starting his 36th year as a coach after an absence of more than a year as general manager, Gillman shook up the Chargers with eight major off-season trades. He also strengthened his coaching staff by appointing former head coaches Charlie Waller and Phil Bengtson as top assistants.

But as busy as was Gillman, he was a distant second to George Allen in the swap market. Carrying a placard, "The Future is Now," Allen came to Washington from the Los Angeles Rams and assaulted the ranks of the Redskins with 15 trades.

The new coach and general manager vetoed the draft while acquiring veterans such as Diron Talbert, Maxie Baughan, Jack Pardee, Myron Pottios, John Wilbur, Tommy Mason and Boyd Dowler from the Rams, Verlon Biggs from the Jets, Ron McDole from the Bills, Speedy Duncan from the Chargers, Bill Kilmer from the Saints and Roy Jefferson from the Colts.

"George did a great job improving his team," said Gillman of his former Ram assistant. "The Redskins now are an excellent team."

Gillman is more concerned over the development of the Chargers. "I am going to play the pre-season games by ear," he said. "I have no preconceived plan."

Against the Redskins, San Diego will start a lineup on offense of John Hadl at quarterback, Mike Garrett and Jeff Queen at running backs, Gary Garrison and rookie Billy Parks at wide receivers, Pettis Norman at tight end, Terry Owens and Russ Washington at tackles, Doug Wilkerson and Walt Sweeney at guards and Sam Gruneisen at center.

On defense, the lineup is Joe Owens and Tom Williams at ends, Kevin Hardy and Ron East at tackles, Pete Barnes, Bob Babich and Jeff Staggs at linebackers, Bob Howard and Joe Beauchamp at cornerbacks and Jim Tolbert and Jim Hill at safeties.

Scheduled to debut Saturday night are San Diego's two top draft choices — running backs Leon Burns from Cal State Long Beach and Mike Montgomery from Kansas State.

The Charger defense, impressive in a 14-6 scrimmage victory over Dallas at Thousand Oaks last Saturday, will get a stern test against a

Jamacha Hills To Play In Tonight's 'Sox Finals

The area major league all star tournament got underway last weekend and two local teams, Spring Valley and Jamacha Hills, were in the thick of things, winning two games apiece.

Spring Valley opened the tourney with a 14-1 thumping of Otay Mesa, as Debbie Whitley notched the win for the locals. Jamacha Hills followed with an exciting 10-9 win over Clairemont.

On Sunday, Jamacha Hills

took the field for the day's first game and won a thriller, 1-0 as Merlyn Bishop tossed the shutout. Spring Valley was next on the field and did away with host team El Cajon, 9-2. Tami Ribby was the winning pitcher in that game.

On Monday, the local teams squared off at the El Cajon field, with Debbie Whitley handling the pitching for Spring Valley and Kim Meyers on the mound for Jamacha Hills.

Perfect fielding and fine pitching resulted in goose eggs for both teams for the first three and one half innings, but Jamacha Hills broke the ice in the bottom of the fourth with three runs.

Neither team could score in the fifth frame, but Spring Valley got on the scoreboard in the top of the sixth with a pair of tallies. Kim Meyers continued with her flawless pitching in the final inning, however, to give Jamacha Hills its ticket to the finals. On Tuesday night, Spring Valley was back in action trying to battle its way into the finals for a rematch with crosstown rival Jamacha Hills. In order to make it to tonight's finals, Spring Valley was to beat El Cajon and defeat the winner of Tuesday's other game which pitted San tee against Del Gardens.

Spring Valley and Del Gardens were favored in Tuesday's games with last night's game rated about even.

Unheralded Navajo Claims Bobby Sox Tournament

Unheralded Navajo, a team that lost its first game of the tournament, came from nowhere to claim the area minor league bobby sox all star tournament last week.

Navajo lost its first game, 15-7 to Clairemont, but bounced back to take Otay Mesa, 31-0. The team's next contest was against Lemon Grove last Tuesday, which they won by the unimpressive score of 12-3.

The win over Lemon Grove eliminated the local crew from the tournament and Navajo took on Spring Valley Wednesday, Spring Valley fell behind early in that game, as Navajo took a 9-3 lead after the first two innings. Spring Valley struck for five runs in the third frame to make it 9-8, but the local bats ran cold and Navajo added seven tallies in the fourth inning to sew it up.

Navajo then moved into the finals against previously undefeated Mesa Del Sol, upending the favorites, 6-4. The Navajo win gave both teams the same record for the tournament and created the championship game, which Navajo won, 14-5.

The two local teams in the tourney, Spring Valley and Lemon Grove, fared reasonably well, with Spring Valley advancing to the semi-finals and taking third place, and Lemon Grove advancing to the quarter finals and taking fourth place.

Spring Valley won three games, 30-2 over Otay Mesa, and 8-3 and 6-4 over Clairemont, while losing a pair, 10-8 to Mesa Del Sol, and 18-8 to Navajo.

Lemon Grove won one game, 9-8 over Lakeside, and lost two, 12-3 to Navajo, and 10-5 to Mesa Del Sol.

Fine Cast, Good Melodrama At Balboa Cabaret Theatre

The local funseekers, as well as the visitor, will find an interesting and intriguing evening in the pleasure arts at the San Diego Cabaret Theatre newly housed in the auditorium in the House of Hospitality in Balboa Park.

The cast of 13 outstanding performers, present in yesterday's fashion, a melodrama written by George M. Cohan.

Cohan's play, "The Tavern" has much of the old master's magic in it. While it appears at the beginning that the play will be cornball and hokum, it suddenly puts itself together and zaps the audience as a well organized script presented by an enthusiastic and capable cast.

There is also the singalong piano preceding the show with Ellis Thorbrooke at the keyboard. The play itself is followed by several entertaining vaudeville type acts — all amusing.

The play, in three acts, has to do with 13 people, all with different angles and different characters, holed up in a tavern during a thunderstorm.

The ending is unusual but in retrospect, it couldn't have ended otherwise.

Sterling performances were contributed by J. R. Hutton, once with Circle Arts theatre; Maureen Roll, a San Diego starlet; Albert Sklar, a veteran of Old Globe and Starlight; Michael K. Ames, a San Francisco actor; Chuck Johnson, a member of the Colorado Springs Civic Theatre; Barb Berg, of USO and musical comedy experience; Bob Howard, a former nightclub performer whose fine voice has been heard at Starlight, Circle Arts and S.D. Civic theatres; Martha Gene, of Globe, Starlight and Civic theatres; Patricia Thorell, a professional model who sings and acts well with a list of musicals to her credit; Thomas C. Bourke, former asst. stage manager for Imogene Coca and Sid Caesar; David Leisure, a popular drama student from Grossmont College; Frank Doyle, a prize winning performer of musicals, and Mary Beth Williams, formerly of Dean Martin and Johnny Carson shows.

Theatre admission is $3.50 and patrons sit at tables where they may elect to have cocktails and dinner. Curtain is 8:30. Reservations are possible at 232-7431.

Circus Coming To Sports Arena

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, 101 years young this year, comes to the San Diego International Sports Arena Sept. 14-19 with an all new show and dozen of acts never seen before in the United States.

Circus Director Richard Barstow said this year, for the first time, five special productions will be presented including a country-style aerial hoedown titled "Swing Your Partner" and "Gonna Build a Circus," an up-to-date spectacle of clowns, animals and hippies.

In the grand finale, titled "Flying High," the entire company of the Greatest Show on Earth is presented in a look toward the future at a world of peace and plenty.

Among the international troupe featured in the new show will be the German animal master, Gunther Gebel-Williams and his elephants, tigers and horses and Europe's Wolfgang Holzmaier and 17 lions.

In addition, performances also will feature noted Spanish juggler, Gran Picaso; Swiss highwire clown, Pio Nock; the Rudi Lenz chimpanzees from Holland; the George Jonel bears from Rumania; Doval the Great, highwire artist; the "First Family of the Air," The Flying Gaonas; the American aerial performer, Lam Toria; European acrobats, The Faladis and Silagis and European equestrienne, Jeanette Williams.

Shani Wallis not only achieved stardom but great critical acclaim with her recent poignant portrayal of Nancy in the motion picture version of "Oliver!" Prior to that, Shani had garnered many kudos with her night club appearances here and abroad as well as playing most of the great American musicals in her native London. As Anna, the Governess, Shani brings to the role a voice capable of an astonishing variety.

William Chapman, in the role of the king of Siam, has qualities of being able to combine major operatic and musical comedy triumphs. His greatest acclaim has been for his portrayal of the king in "The King and I," in Los Angeles, Houston, Cleveland, Kansas City, Fort Worth and other major cities. He has sung musical comedy and opera in New York and on Broadway and is himself a teacher of classical singing. Following his appearance at Starlight during the next several weeks, Chapman will begin a concert tour.

Featured players in the cast include Majorie Livingston, a professional singer-actress noted for a magnificent voice, portrays Lady Thiang; David Milton-Holmes, 18-year old who has already accumulated a number of impressive credits including a part in the local professional production of "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," plays Prince Chulalongkorn; Karen Hartman, who recently won a coveted local Metropolitan Opera audition, plays Tuptim; Robert Austin, a local performer with a long list of professional appearances, is the Kralahome; Walter Ritter, USIU School of Performing Arts graduate, will be Lun Tha.

Tickets for "The King and I", which runs through August 22, with no show August 16, can be purchased at the Starlight Musicals at the Zoo box office, 1601 Third ave., from 9:15 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. daily and noon to 5:15 p.m. Sunday, or by phoning 232-2136. Tickets can also be purchased at all Highlander Men's Stores and Metro-Ticketron agencies. On performance nights, tickets can be purchased at the Zoo box office after 7:30 p.m.

OFFENDERS BONE UP — Jack Bremner of Hillcrest, a certified teacher with the San Diego Public Schools, helps four residents of San Diego County's Work Furlough Center with basic education so they can complete their elementary education. The sentenced prisoners, when ready, are brought to the center in San Diego and helped to find a job and adjust to it while still under sentence. Evening classes help fill in educational deficiencies.

Band Set For Trip To Vienna

The Music Parents Club of Mount Miguel High School met Tuesday night and voted to send the school's band and orchestra to Vienna next summer.

Mount Miguel will be one of three schools from California at the affair, which is being sponsored by a group in Austria. The other two bands will be from Modesto and San Jose.

According to a spokesman for the Music Parents Club, $150,000 will be needed to finance the trip. Fund raising projects are now in the planning stage, the spokesman said, and will include a rugby game.

S.V. Woman Burglar Held For Oregon Police

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A Spring Valley woman was ordered released from county jail in Superior Court on Tuesday, so she might be turned over to Oregon authorities for a hearing on an alleged parole violation.

Caroline Frances Lyman, 24, of 3173 Bancroft dr., was arrested in connection with La Mesa and Spring Valley burglaries and on April 12 pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property. Her brother, Phillip Newton, 19, pleaded guilty to second degree burglary and was sent to the California Youth Authority.

Mrs. Lyman on May 3 was put on three years probation, with a year to be spent in the honor camp. But on Tuesday Judge Francis E. Gallagher said she could not be sent to the honor camp because the Oregon authorities have a "hold" on her.

The judge ordered her released to Oregon, where she will have a hearing on her alleged parole violation.

They will dress to take field trips to the Zoo, Balboa Park, La Jolla Cove, and other places of interest.

Mayfair, Big Bear Markets Taken to Court

Attorney General Evelle J. Younger last week filed suits in San Diego Superior Court charging that Big Bear Markets and Mayfair Markets, operating in San Diego County, mislead consumers as to the grade of beef they are buying.

The state's chief law officer asked the court to enjoin the markets from making further false and misleading representations, and that they be fined $2,500 for each violation.

Additionally, the Attorney General asked that Mayfair Markets be assessed $50,000 in punitive damages and that Big Bear Markets be assessed $25,000 in punitive damages.

In the suit, it is charged that the two market chains induce the public to purchase their beef by unfair competition and false and misleading representations.

The complaint alleges that Mayfair Markets advertises their beef as "U.S.D.A. Choice or Mayfair Blue Ribbon" and that Big Bear Markets advertises their beef as "U.S.D.A. Choice and Big Bear Preferred."

The U.S.D.A. Choice and the stores' own brands are unsegregated, carry the same price and are labeled identically, said Younger. The suit alleges that these facts lead consumers to believe that the Big Bear Preferred and Mayfair Blue Ribbon beef is the equivalent of U.S.D.A. Good, which is a lesser grade than U.S.D.A. Choice.

Drug Policy Change Eyed

Four students, including two accused of off-campus violations, were expelled, and 18 students were re-admitted to classes.

Of the four students expelled, one was from Monte Vista High School. The expulsions brought the total number of students expelled under the four-year-old policy to 671.

The reinstatements brought the total number of students re-admitted to 631, including 270 this year. Students are eligible for reinstatement when they initiate rehabilitation proceedings.

In other action, trustees trimmed $122,000 from the operating budget and approved the final document.

In approving the $25 million package, trustees bypassed an opportunity to insure funding of construction of Valhalla High School, the proposed ninth school.

Had trustees budgeted the money for the construction, a 50-cent tax hike would have been needed. No tax increase is expected from the $25 million budget.

Construction of the high school will now depend on the passage of a bond issue scheduled for October 19. If the bond is not passed, the school will be delayed for at least one year until a second bond issue passes or a tax increase is levied.

Had trustees levied the 50 cent increase and the bond election passed later, the tax money would have been put in the bank and used to cut taxes in the next few years.
